Judge Burke, formerly one of the best-known racing stewards of the Western turf and for several years a well-known official on the St. Louis tracks, is quoted as having stated in New York last night that the closing down of racing at Wash-ington Park would prove of great benefit to this city.

ington Park would prove of great benefit to this city.

"A former shutdown in Chicago brought all kinds of good horses to St. Louis and resulted in much activity in the game at the Mound City." said Judge Burke, "and the present closing down of Washington Park ought to prove beneficial to St. Louis."

Park ought to prove beneficial to St. Louis."

Although the local association may profit somewhat by the shutdown of the game in Chicago, nothing but sympathetic utterances could be heard from the directors of the Pair Association last evening.

"We will be glad to have any horsamen with us who are temporarily shut out at Chicago," said Manager Sam Adler last evening. "but we would prefer to let Chicago keep its horses rather than see the Washington Park meeting close down. We want to see the turf flourish all eround the West, and we would rather see the game booming at Washington Park than to have the slight added revenue that additional handicap horses may bring to us.

"Washington Park is a high close "Washington" Park is a high close "Washington".

that additional handicap horses may bring to us.

"Washington Park is a high-class course, and all persons with the interest of the game at heart ought to be gind to see it prosper. Inasmuch as that track firmished many of the classics of the Western turf, we regret extremely that it should have any trouble."

Secretary Hachmeister, Judge Maginn and other officials of the Fuir Grounds apoke in the same vein. All agreed that the shutdown at Washington Park was to be deprecated, and said that it was better the game should flourish generally throughout the West than that any one track should profit, by the misfortunes of another.

HURT IN CONTEST.

Severe Injury Did Not Discourage Isodoro, and He Won Game.

Spectators at the pelota games last night saw the best contest of the season between the Whites, Isodoro and Olascongos, and the Blues, Baraclades and Altamira. The former team won-30 to 29.

Altamira. The former team won—30 to 2.

It was a game of great speed throughout. Isodoro and Baraclades, the "Irish pair," opposed each other in play. They have got the "cocky" Irish temper as well as appearance, and fought tooth and nall. At one period isodoro was obliged to cut the game because one of Baragaldes's hot shots took his toe nail off. The physician in charge bound up his foot and he returned to the game as gamely as ever. He went buck at Haracaldes and directly made that player, turn his back on a hot shot sent right at him. Baracaldes, however, fought back gamely and scored two points by clever corner shots.

Isodoro won the game by a long drive to the back wall, which bounded on the fronton, but against the wooden score beard, thus defying return, Isodoro's gameness was much applauded by the crown. Having a great toe nall knocked off and then winning a game of pelota is no play. Classoosao and Altamira played sizedly, the former being a bit the surest. As a contest, the second game was but slightly inferior to the first. Yurrita and Abadiano, whites played and bear All and Marquines, blues, is to 22. The Blues had a slight advantage all through but the Whites made it interesting to the last four points, when Yurrita's smart service and clever corner plays won for the Bines.

To-night Irum and Marquines will play

To-night Irun and Marquines will play gea and Anabitarte, and All and asiego will tackle Bibliano and Ibaceta-Pasiego will tackle Bibliano a Play will begin at 8:30 p. m.

EASTERN MEN LIKE HERMIS. GAME WAS UNINTERESTING. LEACH GETS A HOME RUN

His Owners Feel Confident of His Ability to Win the Greatest Stake Ever Raced For in

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New York, June 21 .- Jockey Fuller, who ode Highball in the American Derby and anded him a winner, will leave New York for St. Louis on Thursday to ride Sam C. Hildreth's Witful in the World's Fair Handicap on Saturday.

Fuller had only just returned to New York when Hildreth wired asking him if he would not make the trip to St. Louis to ride Witful, who, according to good judges, is looked upon as a "sleeper." Fuller replied in the affirmative and will reach St. Louis late Friday night. .

In a recent race at Chicago Witful showed great speed and form, but was given a very weak ride by Milton Henry. Hildreth, who trains McChesney for E. E. Smathers, is confident, now that "Big Mac" has been withdrawn, that his own horse has a chance to carry off the rich prize, and, with Fuller on his back, he feels that he will be heard from in the big handicap.

Hildreth wrote Mr. Smathers saying that McChesney was a month or more from a first-class race and be deemed it unwise to start him at St. Louis.

E. R. Shomas and Alex. Shields, joint E. R. Shomas and Alex. Shields, joint owners of Hermis, will leave for St. Louis on Thursday in the hope of seeing the star of the Eastern turf carry off the streatest stake ever raced for in the West. "We believe that Hermis cill win," said Mr. Shields. "He is in great condition just now, and we do not think there is a horse in America capable of taking his measure. His presence will, no doubt, thin down the handleap field and leasen the chances of crowding and interference."

"Hermis is fitter than he ever was in his life," said Mr. Thomas, "and if he has stood the trip well he ought to take up his penalties and win."

It is the consensus of expert opinion hereabouts that in Hermis the East has sent the best horse ever entered for a Western race. It is generally agreed that he will go to the post favorite next Saturday and that the admirers of the Eastern crack will wager tens of thousands of dollars on him regardless of the odds offered against his chances.

It is the present plan of Thomas and Shields to reship Hermis East immediately after the running of the World's Fair Handicap.

HENRY WILL RIDE MCCHESNEY. O'Leary No Longer Lays Odds on the Enstern Champion.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Chicago, June 21.-Sam Hildreth cannot be located to-night, but it is safe to say that Milton Henry will ride McChesney if he starts in the St. Louis World's if he starts in the St. Louis World's Fair Handicap. There is a report current that McChesney is not recovered from his Eastern experience, and not in form for a hard race. Hildrein said last Friday, when McChesney was given public trial at Harlem, that he was trying to get some flesh on his bones and that the horse apparently had been starved. Perhaps a significant fact is the list of probable starters and odds given out hy James O'Leary to-night, which does not contain McChesney's name.

THREE THOUSAND TO PARTICIPATE Turners to Give Postponed Exhibtion at Stadium To-Morrow.

The Turners' mass exhibition, which Sugden catcher.... was to have been at the Stadium last Saturday, but postponed on account of rain, will be held at 3 p. m. to-morrow. The programme will be exactly the same as that scheduled for Saturday, but a as that scheduled for Saturday, but a slight change has been made in the arrangements for the grand parade from the main entrance to the Stadium. The participants in the exhibition will assemble at the Lindell avenue entrance to Forest Park, and be met there by Assistant Chief Nash, of the Department of Physical Culture, as originally intended, but instead of moving to the Stadium in two divisions half an hour apart, the whole assembly of $5,000 participants will leave the main entrance at 2 p. m., and will march to the Stadium. The drills will be timed to the music which will be played all through the exhibition.

The exhibitions will be under the general charge of A. E. Kindervater, Supervisor of Physical Culture in the St. Louis public schools, and director general of the St. Louis Turnverein.

Smoot was rather slow in getting after it. He jumped high in the air, but missed, and Leach was past the plate before Smoot had a throw home. Leach secured three hits out of four times up.

In the third inning "Shorty" McLean, the Cardinal's backstop, distinguished himself by making a sensational catch of a tour fity by Sebring. Sebring sent up a twister, which looked as though it might land on the stand. "Shorty" ran after it, stumbled, held up his hands and caught the ball while on his knees.
